gyenyame: bio

London-based collective gyenyame (/jin yami/) make the mystical real to our everyday lives, bringing the universal message of the great spiritual traditions to a world-embracing fusion of Western, African and Eastern styles and sounds.

Since 2005, core members of vocalists Joyce-Efia and Amelia Samuel and multi instrumentalist Anthony Harmer have become a feature of the inter-faith and alternative spiritual scene in Britain, working with master violinist Gregory Maytan, strings specialist Nadim Rouhani and percussion experts Mehdi Rezvan and Hamish McPharlin to create a sound credited by many as bringing a fresh vitality into spiritual music. Their independent debut CD 'The Mystery', featuring a rendition of their signature meditation 'Alláh'u'abhá' with eight other original compositions inspired by Hindu, Baha'i, Sufi and Buddhist writings, was released in 2007.
